HONGKONG, APRIL 18TH, 1910.

Or late there has been a surprising dearth of information regarding the deposed DALAI LAMA. A successor has been elected, and a telegram the other day from Peking stated that the Chinese Government had pardoned His HOLINESS and agreed to allow him to live in retirement in one of the monasteries north of Lhasa. These facts, together with the reports that Tibet is quiet, indicate that the fear of international complications at one time entertained have proved groundless, and that China's assertion of her sovereign rights in that part of the Empire have been acquiesced in by neighbouring Powers. This means that the policy of reducing Tibet to a province of China will be proceeded with, and that the shadowy authority previously exercised from Peking will become more definite and pronounced. After all, this was only to be expected, and if matters came to a head with startling precipitancy the DALAI LAMA had only himself to blame. Though somewhat loosely described as the Head of the Lamaists, the DALAI LAMA claimed to exercise more than spiritual sway over the country, and naturally his pretensions to temporal rights, if at all admitted, were regarded with some jealousy by the Chinese authorities. Dr. SVEN HEDIN in the written account of his travels in Tibet explains that the functions of teacher and king are divided between the two Lamaist popes, the former being assigned to the TASHI LAMA and the latter to the DALAI LAMA. The title of the former, "Panchen Kimpoché," means "The Great Precious Teacher," and the title of the latter "Gyalpo Kimpoché," "the Precious King." "In consequence of this ideal the DALAI LAMA," adds the distinguished traveller, "has at length become the temporal ruler of the greater part of Tibet, though he owes his position more to the situation and historical connections of his capital than to his scholastic theory of sanctity. The TASHI LAMA has, therefore, for the present to content himself with a comparatively small territory, combined with a reputation for sanctity and omniscience and the privilege of acting as tutor and guardian to an infant DALAI LAMA." It can be understood how the claims of China, not supported by force, came to be viewed as practically nominal, and the circumstances which gradually invested the Papacy at Rome with temporal powers were doubtless paralleled in some degree in the Lamaist Church in Tibet. So long as the functions of the King were exercised in Tibet only, and had no concern with external affairs, the passive attitude of China would be preserved, but when influences from without were at work and the suzerain authority did not receive befitting acknowledgment, then it became necessary for the Peking Government to adopt the active measures recently undertaken. Although the DALAI LAMA was an ambitious intriguer whose incautious policy provoked the offensive measures of Lord Curzon, so disastrous for Tibet, his action is quite explicable when we bear in mind the claim to kingship which he entertained. But the failure of the PONTIFF to grasp the significance of the forces surrounding Tibet, both in India and China, led to his discrediting himself and his office, and his downfall therefore was only a matter of consequence. He may attract some little attention before he sinks into obscurity, but there seems little hope of his ever recovering his office or his prestige. His successor has been selected, and though he will be prepared for his high office by the TASHI LAMA or one of the other LAMAS as decided by the conclave, it is not likely that China will permit him to acquire any claim to regal privileges. They will take good care that their authority is not questioned. The re-incarnation theory as applied to the PONTIFF will be doubtless allowed to develop as heretofore, but the DALAI LAMA, being henceforward a puppet in the hands of Chinese officials, will have little opportunity of regarding himself as a king as well as a pope, and the office will be as completely divested of all temporal power as has been that of the Papacy of Rome.

Capt. P. H. Climo, R.G.A., has been transferred from the Hongkong-Singapore Battalion to the Indian Mountain Artillery.

Dr. W. A. P. Martin, who arrived in China on April 10th, 1850, has just celebrated, at Wuching, his 63rd anniversary.

At the Magistracy on Saturday Mr. E. R. Bullfinch sentenced a native to three months' imprisonment for stealing a private ricksha valued at $60 from a shop in Wong Hing Street.

The U.S. Consulate at Swatow reports having picked up five shipwrecked Chinese on the 9th inst. from a sunken junk which had capsized two days previously in a squall. The junk was bound from Saigon to Singapore with a cargo of paddy and pigs. Ten of the crew are missing.

The annual general meeting of the Hongkong Church Missionary Association will be held at St. Paul's College this afternoon, when the Bishop of Victoria will preside, and an address will be given by the Bishop in Kwangsi and Hsian (Dr. Banister, formerly Archbishop of Hongkong).

The dues and duties collected by the Maritime Customs at Hankow during the quarter ended December 31st last totalled 755,795,782 Haikwan taels, compared with 764,841,785 for 1908 and 875,658,345 for 1907. During the same quarter 2,298 vessels of 651,324 tons entered the port, against 2,514 of 690,492 tonnage for the same period in 1908.

Referring to the Wei Thiam Tew conviction in which a Singapore Chinese barrister was sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment for perjury, the Times of Ceylon says:—A Chinaman's word stands high in the Far East, and it can be hardly imagined here what a sensational event for Malaya, with its hundreds of thousands of independent and flourishing Chinamen, is the conviction recorded by cable to-day.

The news that indentured coolie emigration from India to the F.M.S. will shortly be stopped owing to the high death-rate among the immigrants, has aroused attention in Java. Yaloes have been raised to urge the Dutch Government to inquire how it stands with the Japanese immigrants under indenture in the F.M.S. Some people go further and advocate the stoppage of Japanese emigration thither until there are adequate measures for their protection. The Batavia Nieuws van den Dag points out, however, that nothing is known of any high mortality among Japanese coolies in the F.M.S., and that the agitators had better look nearer home. For instance, the death-rate among natives at Batavia reaches the appalling figure of 98 per thousand, a fact admitted in official reports.

An Agency of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation was opened at Johore (Malay Peninsula) on the 16th inst.

The Supreme Court of the Philippines has overruled the decision of the Governor-General to deport certain Chinese, in the case of three men; the other three are still detained at Bilibid.

The Hon. Treasurer of the Alice Memorial Affiliated Hospitals begs to acknowledge with thanks the following donation to the funds of the Hospitals:—

Anonymous $5

His Excellency the Governor has given his assent, in the name and on behalf of His Majesty the King, to Ordinance No. 5 of 1910—An Ordinance to regulate the Law relating to Crown Suits.

The Gazette publishes a list of masters, mates and engineers who have passed their examinations and obtained certificates of competency under the provision of Her Majesty's Order in Council of December 31st, 1883, for the year ending 31st December, 1909.

A memorial service for the Honourable William A. Rublee, late American Consul-General, will be held at St. John's Cathedral this afternoon at 4.30 p.m. His Excellency the Governor expects to attend, and the service will be conducted by the Bishop of Victoria. The flags on several ships and offices, and at Queen's College were half-masted on Saturday out of respect to the late Consul-General.

There will be no more Clark around-the-world trips. Shortly before the sailing of the Cleveland with the large party which visited Manila, Mr. Frank C. Clark, who personally conducted the party, stated that this trip would be the last. This decision was reached as a result of the heavy fines imposed by the United States customs officials upon the Cleveland for carrying passengers from one American port to another in a foreign vessel.

GILES' CHINESE-ENGLISH DICTIONARY.

The Chinese-English Dictionary by Professor Giles was first published in 1892. Two handsome volumes of a new edition of this valuable Dictionary are now offered to the public, with altogether 592 pages. As the complete work will consist of about 1,800 pages, we are to expect four more volumes, which will appear in due time and then form the most complete Chinese-English Dictionary extant. The fact that after only 18 years a new edition of this standard work had to be published speaks for itself. It shows clearly that Professor Giles's Dictionary has proved indispensable to the student of the Chinese language and that it is regarded as by far the most satisfactory work that has been published on the subject.

We have opened these volumes in high expectation, and have not been disappointed. The almost unique scholarship of the author, his large acquaintance with Chinese, in its literary and spoken forms, which secures him a foremost position among sinologists of the present day, will no doubt also secure to this new edition a widespread acceptance among all those for whom it is designed.

The present volumes are not simply a re-issue of the old Dictionary. It is evident on almost every page that the author has spared no efforts to make this a genuine new edition. Mistakes discovered by himself and those which have been pointed out by others have been corrected and a number of obsolete entries have been omitted, while a considerable number of new entries (the complete work promises not less than 30,000 new entries) have been added under their proper headings.

The author has adhered to his principle of not dividing the phraseology into classical and colloquial. Opinions will differ as to whether the reason he gives for doing so is valid or not. True though it is, that no "real line of demarcation" exists between classical and colloquial phraseology, since the book-language often fades imperceptibly into the colloquial, nevertheless this fact counts little compared to the facility which is afforded by a division, when looking up a word or sentence, not to mention what the Chinese themselves have to say on this particular point. They draw a very definite line of demarcation between classical and colloquial phraseology.

One thing has struck us, when looking over the pages of the present volumes, viz., the rare use of what may be styled the language of the "New China." Since Professor Giles first published his Dictionary the Chinese language has undergone a marvellous change. There is a long list of phrases, partly borrowed from Japanese literature and partly old phrases used in new senses, which are now current not only in Chinese newspapers and books of science, but also in Government despatches. This has to be taken into consideration when preparing an up-to-date Dictionary which is to last for some time. It cannot be based solely upon the reading of the standard authors, but must include also a reading of the literature of the last 10 or 15 years. A new edition of a Dictionary issued at the present time must needs recognize this. It is to be hoped that the remaining volumes will make up for this lack, thereby enriching the Dictionary and enhancing its value.

We close these remarks, though the subject is far from being exhausted, and in our readers who are interested to get these volumes. They are calculated to be of great service to the student who is interested in the language and literature of China.

This new edition is published by Messrs. Kelly & Walsh, Ltd., at the cost of $5.50. We understand that on the completion of the work the price will be raised.

PEKING, April 17th.

The Governor of Changsha, who was wounded during an attack on the Yamen, is reported dead.

The British gunboat "Thistle" was unsuccessful in reaching the scene of the disturbance, but the smaller gunboats "Snipe" and "Nightingale," are expected to reach Changsha tomorrow.

A French gunboat is leaving Ichang for Changsha. All the foreigners are safe, but their property, including that of the Imperial Maritime Customs, was destroyed.

The rioters apparently possess some organisation.

SPHERES OF INFLUENCE IN CHINA.

IMPORTANT STATEMENT.

LONDON, April 15th.

Sir Edward Grey, replying to Mr. Winterton, in the House of Commons, said the principle of spheres of influence regarding railway concessions in China had never been formally repudiated. It was a question how far German and Russian participation in the Hankow-Canton and Hankow-Szechuan railway loans accorded with the spirit of the agreement between the groups concerned, but His Majesty's Government would claim a reciprocity on behalf of British groups in similar circumstances.

SPECULATING IN DREAD-NOUGHTS.

LONDON, April 15th.

It appears that the four additional Dreadnoughts being constructed in Austria are being proceeded with despite the fact that the Parliamentary grants therefor have hitherto been refused.

The shipbuilders, supported by financiers, are laying down the vessels at their own risk, trusting to secure the ultimate vote.

INDUSTRIAL TROUBLES IN GERMANY.

LONDON, April 15th.

A lock-out in the building trade has begun throughout Germany except in Berlin and Hamburg, where it will begin on April 23rd if negotiations fail. The lock-out affects directly 400,000 workers and 300,000 dependants.

LORD ROSEBERRY'S APPEAL.

LONDON, April 15th.

Lord Rosebery, writing to the "Times," says the "importance of the issue makes me almost appeal with passion to the Unionist leaders to drop the issue of tariff reform at the coming election and secure a straight fight on the issue of the single chamber as opposed to two. Thereon depends more than temporary parts of success, namely, the confidence of other countries and our own dominions and our own people."

LOCAL SPORT.

BOXING AT THE STADIUM.

There was not a large attendance at the Belle View Stadium on Saturday night, but the boxing programme which was arranged and carried through was entirely satisfactory, and was worthy of more patrons than the few who found their way to the Stadium. The principal attraction was the welterweight tournament, which was productive of some keenly-contested and exciting bouts. Unfortunately a few of the men whose chances of success were more than favourable were debarred from appearing, but others were found to take their places, and although two of them did not exceed featherweight they were ready to meet all the welters entered, and both proved themselves worthy foemen. In fact one of them, Coyne of the Naval Yard, was the runner-up, and in the opinion of many present, and even of one of the judges, should have been the winner. The referee was Sergeant Figgott of the R.G.A., while Dr. J. W. Hartley and Mr. C. Bond acted as judges. The timekeepers were Messrs. S. Kelly and A. Wilden.

The first fight in the welterweight tournament was between Coyne, 131lb., and Mustard, 137lb. So evenly matched were these two that at the conclusion of the three rounds the referee and judges could not separate them, and an extra round was called. After a stirring two minutes, Coyne was adjudged the winner.

Then came Johnson of H.M.S. Bedford, 131lb., and Boyd of the R.G.A., 140lb. As far as science goes, Johnson does not count much, but what he lacks in this department is fully compensated for by his pluck and grit. He put up an excellent fight, and succeeded in gaining the decision.

Next to come together were Stoker Biggins of H.M.S. Kent, 139lb., and Stoker Arnold of H.M.S. Monmouth, 143lb. In this event Arnold did not belie the reputation he had gained in the Colony, for he proved too smart for the clever Biggins, and at the end of the three rounds judges and referee found no difficulty in fixing the winner.

In the semi-final Coyne scored a bye and spared three rounds with Eesman Willis, while Johnson met Arnold. The representative of the Monmouth, however, was of a superior class, and had little difficulty in gaining the points over his lighter opponent.

After the battle between Arnold and Hudson, Coyne and Arnold came together in the final. Arnold had an advantage of ten pounds in weight and succeeded in scoring the decision over Coyne after an extra round. In the first round the Naval Yarder narrowly escaped a knockout, but he made a speedy recovery, and came up fresh and fit in the second round, when he scored repeatedly with a straight left. His tactics were the same in the third round, and proved effective, but Arnold got in some good work with the right, and balanced matters. Both men forced the fight in the final round, but Arnold was adjudged the winner, and was presented by Dr. Hartley with the cup, at the same time being congratulated on his success. Coyne was not in form, but the fight he put up shows he has lost none of his old skill, and in future battles he may be relied upon to give a good account of himself. This was the first fight he has lost in the Colony, and it was to a man who is reputed to be a top-notch in a heavier class.

Gunner Arundel, 141lb., and Gunner Hubbard, 140lb., entered the ring for an eight round bout. It was a willing fight while it lasted, and Hubbard was showing to even better advantage than in his last fight with Bodbrook. He injured his right arm in the third round, however, and was compelled to retire.

The main event was between Seaman Roberts of H.M.S. Kent and Taft O'Keefe of the Torpedo Depot. It was billed as a fifteen minute round contest, but it required only eight rounds for Roberts to prove his superiority. Seaman Willis acted as referee, and had one of the easiest tasks that has probably ever fallen to the lot of a man in this thankless position, for the fight was an exceptionally clean one. Roberts did the leading throughout, and it was soon apparent that O'Keefe had little chance against him. In the seventh round the sailor swung a right on to the policeman's jaw and floored him, but the sound of the gong brought relief. In the next and final round Roberts rushed in to finish the fight, and floored his opponent with a left swing to the jaw. It was the decisive blow, and O'Keefe was counted out.

THE A.D.C.

On Saturday night the Hongkong Amateur Dramatic Club achieved another success in their third performance of that well-known and popular play "Mice and Men." The City Hall, in spite of the many discomforts inseparable from the building on a sultry evening, was filled to completion, and the audience had no cause to complain at the manner in which our local Theatians catered for their entertainment. The slight nervousness exhibited by some of the performers on the previous evenings had quite disappeared, and the principals are to be complimented upon the really excellent manner in which they performed their unaccustomed and arduous duties. Indeed, to the uninitiated, Peggy (Miss Ella Rowe), and Mark Embury (Mr. G. Balloch), might have been the experienced performers of some successful season. The insouciance of the pampered Society favourite with a predilection for chaste meetings with a dashing young officer was most aptly portrayed by Mrs. W. H. Looker, who as Johanna Goodlake was responsible for the many "impossible" situations with which the play abounds. Mrs. Blado as Miss Deborah, Embury's housekeeper, was the personification of the lady with a pedigree who, through reduced circumstances, has been compelled to accept the inevitable and go into service, and she was admirably supported by her nephew, Kit Baranger (Mr. H. W. Looker), who figures in the drama as a fiddler and professor of deportment. Of the others it need only be said that they acquitted themselves excellently, and the support accorded them by the audience is ample testimony of the appreciation in which our talented amateurs are held by their friends in the Colony. We are looking forward to a similar treat, which we believe is to be given by them at no very distant date.

HAMBURG LETTER.

[WRITTEN SPECIALLY FOR THE "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS."]

March 24th.
THE NORDDEUTSCHE LLOYD.

The report of the Norddeutsche Lloyd in Bremen published last week, although on the whole satisfactory, is viewed with disappointment in some quarters, in so far as at least the working of several of the lines shows no improvement and as no provision has been made for the reserve funds that were completely absorbed last year. No dividend had been expected. On particular's becoming known the shares of the company declined about 3 per cent. and are only slowly recovering. The figures are as follows:

Gross Earnings	32,900,343
Less for special repairs	M. 3,876,040
Placed to credit of insurance account	1,401,281
Reserve for stamps on coupon sheets	70,000
	5,347,321
	M. 27,523,422

Interest on loans	M. 4,101,793
Working Expenses, in 1. Income Tax	2,427,602
1/3 of charges for issue of loan of 25 million marks in 1908	195,534
	M. 7,517,929

Written off on—	M.
Ocean-going steamers	16,171,000
Steamers and tugs on the River Weser	387,000
Tenders, launches, etc.	311,517
Land and buildings	607,000
Shares in other lines	17,817,273
	22,044,414
	M. 27,523,422

The interest at 6 per cent. on M. 25,500,000, say, M. 1,530,000 for the year 1909, according to the agreement with the International Mercantile Marine Company, is not included in the above, but will be carried to the credit of new account.

Particular attention has been paid to the reduction of working expenses: they amount to M. 3,217,000, against M. 3,615,000 in the previous year, and a saving of about half a million has been effected on interest account. There has been an increase in the receipts of the Atlantic services from M. 8,633,000 to M. 10,960,000, in those of the Imperial Mail Lines from M. 2,701,000 to M. 4,102,000, and from the European lines and other sources from M. 1,540,000 to M. 1,853,000.

The amount of cash in hand and in the Reichsbank is, in round numbers, M. 330,000, against M. 264,000, whilst in securities of different kinds the company holds M. 15,470,000, against M. 16,225,000 last year. Sundry debtors amount to M. 16,700,000, against M. 13,900,000, and sundry creditors to M. 65,250,000, against M. 74,250,000, a favourable feature.

The emigrant traffic shows a decided improvement owing to the increasing demand for labour in the United States consequent upon the revival of trade in that country. 150,748 steerage passengers have been shipped across the Atlantic, against 59,050 in the previous twelve months. The demand for cabin passages has likewise become more active towards the end of the year, and the number already booked for the present season augurs well for the future.

The cargo business, too, has been on the mend, but progress has been somewhat checked during part of the summer by the uncertainty prevailing with regard to the new tariff bill in the States; this difficulty having now been settled a revival of the export trade with North America may be looked for.

The Canadian service has fully come up to expectations and will be resumed with every prospect of success in April.

The rates to South American ports have not been satisfactory owing to severe competition and some of the other lines have also left much to be desired.

It will be seen from this that the Norddeutsche Lloyd is in a fair way to retrieve its former position in the shipping world, but it may take a few more years of good trade before it is attained.

With regard to the Hamburg-Amerika Line I have little to add to the statement I ventured to make last month in anticipation of the annual report of the board of directors. This has now appeared and will be laid before the shareholders at the general meeting to be held on the 30th inst. According to it

The gross earnings for the year	M.
From which have to be deducted for interest on debentures	33,056,168.77
	M. 3,789,046.88

Leaving	M. 29,658,121.39
Of this there has been allocated to reserve insurance account	1,681,114.84
Depreciation and renewal accounts	18,372,840.40
Creation of a competition war fund	2,000,000.00
	22,053,955.24
	M. 7,604,166.65

After allowing for the statutory bonus to the directors M. 104,156.65 It is proposed to pay a dividend of 6 per cent. to the shareholders 7,500,000.00

The "Competition War Fund," which appears for the first time in the accounts of the company, is explained to have been formed for the purpose of strengthening the hands of the directors in the ever-recurring and inevitable rate conflicts and to cover the losses any of the lines may sustain by having to reduce freights.

I take the following items from the balance sheet:

Cash in hand and with the bank	809,609.45
Deposits with different banks	20,583,029.40
Portfolio	12,740,100.99
Shares in other companies	3,809,604.72
Sundry debtors	6,935,910.80

Share Capital	125,000,000.00
Debentures of 1893, 1901, 1905 and 1908 less amount paid off	75,375,000.00
Reserve Funds	16,753,155.44
Surplus account (accounts not closed)	15,593,158.42
Sundry creditors	5,417,445.90

The ocean-going fleet consisting of 161 steamers stands in book 194,250,000.00 Less instalments still to be paid... 6,300,000.00

Other craft... M. 187,950,000.00
Land, docks and buildings in different parts of the world... 20,175,974.00

The advance in the rate of discount in London last week, although unusual at this time of the year, was generally expected and therefore caused no surprise, but that it should have been thought necessary to raise it a whole per cent., from 3 to 4 per cent., created some sensation and is looked upon as a danger signal. It is explained by the fact that the abundance of money since the new year had favoured the issue of large exotic loans and others, and that the demand for gold for Russia and the United States was assuming alarming proportions, whilst the financial operations of the government, consequent upon the budget difficulty, added to the strain. Whether the stringency will increase and lead to a further rise in the rate and whether the Reichsbank in Berlin will find itself obliged to follow suit is hard to say, at any rate speculation has received a check for the present and a dull one prevails in the stock markets.

AERIAL COLUMBUS.

Dr. Gans Fabrice, the German aeronaut, who intends to attempt to traverse the Atlantic Ocean in an airship, has given the following particulars of his scheme:

"I shall be accompanied by Herr Bruckner, the editor of a Frankfurt newspaper, by a physician, and by one engineer. I intend to start about the middle of May from either Cadix, Spain, or Tenerife.

"This time of the year is chosen because then there is an easterly wind which blows from the European to the American continent continuously, and with a force of nearly thirty miles an hour. It was to this wind that Columbus owed his success in discovering America.

"I desire to be an aerial Columbus, and, starting approximately from the same point, to be the first to reach America through the air. My course would be across the Atlantic Ocean to Porto Rico, passing Cuba, and then across the Gulf to New Orleans. The distance of my course would be just over 4,000 miles.

"I estimate that I should cover this distance in five days. My airship now approaching completion is a combination of an ordinary balloon and a dirigible airship. The length of the balloon section is 175 feet, and its diameter, which is cigar-shaped, is 50 feet. The motor is 40-horse-power.

"Owing to the favourable wind which I shall utilise I only intend to use the motor in case of necessity, because it is not possible to take sufficient benzine to keep the motor going for five days. The cubic contents of the balloon are quite sufficient to keep the airship aloft for 145 hours. That would be six days, or one day more than I require for the passage.

"Perhaps the most interesting feature of my airship is a cage 40 feet long and 10 feet wide. In case of necessity this can be sailed on the ocean as a motor-boat, and if I run short of benzine it can be sailed as a sailing boat, because I shall take a portable mast with me.

"So far as human foresight can foresee, my enterprise must succeed. A number of ships will be on the look-out for us between European coasts and the West Indies."

DUEL CAUSED BY A WIDOW.

A sensational duel, in which both combatants were over ninety years of age, took place on March 20th at Nikolsk-Ussorsk, St. Petersburg. Prince Subotoff, aged ninety-one, and M. Wjarsjanoff, aged ninety-three, who owned the neighbouring estate, had been excellent friends for half a century. They were in the habit of meeting daily at the house of Mme. Dejaszky, a widow of forty.

One day Prince Subotoff imagined that M. Wjarsjanoff was flirting with the widow, and a quarrel sprang up between the men. After they had treated each other with studied politeness for several weeks, a quarrel took place as they were leaving Mme. Dejaszky's residence.

Prince Subotoff called his aged companion an empty-headed conceit, who should know better than to carry on a flirtation when he had one foot in the grave. M. Wjarsjanoff retorted that he was young enough to resent such criticism, and the ancient gentlemen thereupon exchanged cards.

They first agreed to fight with the swords which they had used as officers in the Russo-Turkish war, but these proved too heavy for them, and pistols were selected as the weapons. Their seconds were men young enough to be their grandsons.

Prince Subotoff's right thumb was shot away, but he promptly transferred his pistol to his left hand, and succeeded in wounding his former friend in the shoulder. Then the seconds stopped the duel. The principals were taken home and put to bed, and they are now rapidly recovering. They declare that they will fight again.

A GOOD START IN LIFE.
Mothers should early realize how essential good health is for the success of their child in after life. A badly nourished baby generally means an undersized child, wanting in stamina and vigor. If unable to nurse your baby, you must give the substitute that most closely resembles human milk. No farinaceous or starchy food or unmodified cow's milk is permissible to a child under 6 or 7 months of age. The "Allenburys' Milk Food" is so prepared as to remove the difference between cow's milk and human milk, and they are as easy of digestion as the natural food of the child.
The "Allenburys' Foods" are alike suitable for the delicate and robust, and when used as directed, form the best means of rearing a child by hand. The No. 1 Milk Food may be given alternately with the mother's milk without fear of upsetting the child or causing digestive disturbance. The dreaded process of weaning is thus made easy and comfortable both to the mother and child.

HALL'S DISTEMPER

Hall's Distemper sets hard as cement and never fades or changes colour. It is dust proof, and perfectly washable if lightly sponged with tepid water.

It is when first applied a thorough disinfectant destroying all vermin and microbes. It can be guaranteed to contain 1½ per cent. of Cresylic Acid.

It is cheaply and easily applied with a white-wash brush, saving 40 per cent. of the cost of labour.

The One Decoration which excels all others for Hospitals, Convalescent Homes, Nursing Institutions, etc., is Hall's Distemper, because—

IMPORTANT NOTE.—In all cases of infectious disease Hall's Distemper is not only the cheapest, but the most thoroughly effective disinfectant and artistic decoration to employ.
